a comprehensive interview with chicana writer helena maria viramontes an indispensable tool to approach chicana writers literature strongly recommended for academic and public libraries college professors and students of latino literature in spanish 120 pp

this volume brings together many prominent philosophical voices today focusing on issues of u s latinx and latin american identities and feminist theory as such the essays collected here highlight the varied and multidimensional aspects of gender racial cultural and sexual questions impacting u s latinx and latin american communities today the collection also highlights a number of important threads of analysis from fields as diverse as disability studies aesthetics literary theory and pop culture studies helena maría viramontes is a professor scholar activist and renowned author of works of fiction and nonfiction her work has been anthologized and is read widely in the united states and abroad for many of her readings and speaking engagements she arrives wearing a rebozo a shawl worn by mexican and chicana women living on both sides of the us mexico border once when asked about her rebozo viramontes explained that the pre columbian icon is her security blanket which she embraces in order to find comfort for her readers her writing functions like a rebozo de palabras a shawl woven with words that nurture as gabriella gutiérrez y muhs points out in her insightful introduction not only has viramontes s work not yet received the broad critical engagement it richly deserves but there remains a monumental gap in the interpretations of chicana literature that reach mainstream audiences rebozos de palabras addresses this void by focusing on how the chicana image has evolved through viramontes s body of work with a foreword by sonia saldívar hull this collection addresses viramontes entire oeuvre through newly produced articles by major literary critics and emerging scholars who engage viramontes s writing from multiple perspectives a two volume bio bibliographical and critical examination of numerous cuban dominican chicano and puerto rican writers includes only authors who have published since 1960 winner of the john dos passos prize for literature stunning newsweek with the same audacity with which john steinbeck wrote about migrant worker conditions in the grapes of wrath and t c boyle in the tortilla curtain viramontes presents a moving and powerful vision of the lives of the men women and children who endure a second class existence and labor under dangerous conditions in california s fields at the center of this powerful tale is estrella a girl about to cross the perilous border to womanhood what she knows of life comes from her mother who has survived abandonment by her husband in a land that treats her as if she were invisible even though she and her children pick the crops of the farms that feed its people but within estrella seeds of growth and change are stirring and in the arms of alejo they burst into a full fierce flower as she tastes the joy and pain of first love pushed to the margins of society she learns to fight back and is able to help the young farmworker she loves when his ambitions and very life are threatened in a harvest of death infused with the beauty of the california landscape and shifting splendors of the passing seasons juxtaposed with the bleakness of poverty this vividly imagined novel is worthy of the people it celebrates and whose story it tells so magnificently the simple lyrical beauty of viramontes prose her haunting use of image and metaphor and the urgency of her themes all announce under the feet of jesus as a landmark work of american fiction highlighting the lives and careers of writers whose cultural roots are embedded in a variety of racial ethnic regional and religious traditions the book not only makes it easier to locate their work it provides insights into their writing styles motivations and points of view women writers from both north and south america including those from different ethnic groups in the united states employ the motif of insect and seed metamorphosis which shows a development of the motif in stages as women increasingly become aware of the existence of a feminine self that is not acknowledged in language the use of the motif by these writers separated by both distance and influence is an attempt by women writers to reject the casting of women s experience in the archetypal images of persephone and penelope as was traditionally assigned to the feminine by western civilization presents a collection of writing by thirty five contemporary writers of hispanic heritage and includes brief biographical information about each contributor
